STORMS EAST AND WEST.

DESTRUCTION BY WIND, HAIL AND RAIN. CARS BLOWN FROM THE TRACK-CROPS DESTROYED

-HOUSES WRECKED. St. PAUL, July 9.-Reports received from various points indicate that a terrific wind and rain storm visited the western and southern parts of this State last night. In places the storm took the shape of a tormade and destroyed everything in its path. Crops suffered, whole fields being destroyed.

MILWAUKEE, July 9.—Reports of damage from the storm say that at Sparts, although no lives were lost, many narrow escapes are reported from falling build-ings. Along Court-st., a scene of desolation prevailed. Buildings are wrecked on every hand, shade trees torn om their roots, sidewalks demolished and fences blown own. Several fine dwelling houses and a number of

A new Cathelle Church, a flax mill, residences and barns were destroyed at Appleton. About Stoughton, the scene of the great tobacco warehouse three of last Sunday, tobacco sheds, houses and barns were demolished and a large number of horses and learns were demolished and a large number of horses and cattle killed. From scores of small towns reports of the storm's destruction are received, but very few estimates of the actual loss are made. In many places where the destruction by wind was not severe great damage was dene by lightning. At Whitewater, Neenah, Fall River and Elroy the loss by lightning was patticularly heavy. At Dexterville, Wood County, the loss by wind and lightning will not fall short of $15,000. In all parts of the State traversed by the storm crops have suffered great bijury.

PROPERTY DESTROYED IN LOWELL.

Lowett, Mass., July 9 .- A thunder storm passed over this city this afternoon, rain fell in torrents and the lightning was vivid for a short time, doing con-siderable damage in this city and vicinity. The telephone wires were struck, setting fire to the tower, in which all the wires in the city concentrate, on the roof of Shat-tuck's Block, in Central-st. All the wires were destroyed, thoroughly interrupting the system. The roof of the Highland Methodist Church, in Loringst., was struck by lighting and slightly damaged. A barn belonging to Jesse Butterfield, at Tyngsborough, was burned. Four of the Boston Ice Company's houses, at North Chelmsford, were blown down.

HOTTEST DAY OF THE YEAR. SHOWERS FOLLOW AN OPPRESSIVE DAY-SEVERAL

CASES OF SUNSTROKE. The Signal Service observers at the top of the Equitable Building say that it will be just as warm to-day as it was yesterday. An appreciable idea of this prophecy might have been obtained by a glance at the thermometer in front of Hudnut's at 3:30 p. m. when it registered 96°. This was the maximum. It went down ten degrees before the sun set. At the same hour on July 8 last year the thermometer stood at 77°, and the mean temperature for that day was 70°. Yesterday at 3 a. m. it was 75°; at noon it was 88°, and it steadily rose at noon it was 88°, and it steadily rose till half-past 3. The same temperatures relatively prevailed all over the country east of the Mississippi and Missouri. At Sandy Hook the mercury registered a maximum temperature of 95°; at Baltimore, 94°; Al-bany, 93°; Philadelphia, and Sandusky 92°, but further west on the plains there was a decline. fall is expected to reach New-York to-morrow.

The suffering in this city was especially severe a there had been only slight preparations for the ex-tremely warm weather. Many of the horses attached to cabs and street cars fell from exhaus-tion. The greatest care was directed toward their re-Blef at the posts along the car lines where they are watered. Along Broadway, between noon and 3 o'clock, foot passengers ceased to regard the formalities of good ety and went down the street clothed with as beside their right minds as was consistent with a due observance of law. They carried their coats and waistwas a grand rush to get out of town. People left eity by the thousand. The Glen Island boats and the steamers and trains for the Long Island beach was a grant stant of the Gien Island boats and the steamers and trains for the Long Island beach hotels were crowded heavily. After noon the regular trains over the Long Island Railroad to Rockaway and Coney Island were cut up and run in sections, the travel being too heavy for the regular accommodations.

After such oppressive heat the rain in the evening was more than a relief. At 0:30 o'clock a dense cloud floated over the city and caused the unprotected pedestrians to look up anxiously and to quicken their steps. But all in vain. After two or three premonitory grows the mass of vapor suddenly condensed and such volumes of water deluged the streets that/one could hardly see more than five or six blocks away. Then, while thousands of luck-less pedestrians rushed for the nearest shelter, the happy street Arabs bared their heads and found infinite delight in their gratuitous shower bath. This, and another local shower which took place two hours later, came from the West and summed up a total rainfall of 0.92 of an inch. Those grateful showers which cleared the air and lowered the temperature about ten degrees, have been doubly beneficial on account of the reliet that they must afford to the sick poor. The number of applications to the Chiffen's Abi Society, at No. 287 East Broadway, for medical did has been quadrupled since last Monday.

The persons were reported to the police as having been overcome by the heat, but no case was fatal. Nearly all the victims were laborers, and they were taken to the different hospitals. There was annual hurricane in Sing Sing at 6 o'clock which only lasted for a few minutes, but in that time to empty the roots, unroofed several buildings and blocked up the streets with trees and branches that had been blown down. Hay that had been up into large heaps was hurled off and much of it carried away. All of the telephone and telerappi wires were form dewn so that the service was uscless. It was the most severa storm that has visited the place in years. A good deal of annance was done

The Reformed Episcopal Sabbath schools of Knew yesterday united in an exercation to long Island. Fonce time and a contract was made with the Meyers exeursion line for the use of the barge Walter Sands. An I er barge, the William J. Haskett, was provided. The atter boat was doesned entirely unsatisfactory, but the best of a had bargain was made, and at 10 o'clock about 700 people, half of whom were children, sailed for Iona Island. At 5 o'clock the large party turned homeward about 700 people, half of whom were children, sailed for Iona Island. At 5 o'clock the larre party turned homeward Evidences of a fast approaching thunder-storm were visible in the west, but caused no scrious apprehension. When off Tomkins Cove the gale burst with sudden fury. The canvas covering, which was insecurely fastened, was torn off and sheets of water driven into the barge. A startling crash along the edge of the roof of the upper deck was followed by the lifting of the entire right nand portion of the roof, which was carried to an upright position against the centre spars. The spars bore the strain an instant, then snapped like pipe stems and half of the roof was swept into the dashing river. At the time of the accident half the people were on the upper deck and a terrible paule was instantly threatened. Over, head the inky clouds were frightfully illuminated by blinding flashes of lightning. A few men with remarkable presence of mind succeeded in preserving comparative quiet. Falling timber struck down Mrs. A. F. West, badly injuring her jaw, and several other persons were bruised. The people on the lower deck, unable to see the mishap over their heads, were impressed with the idea that some of their friends had been swept with the roof into the river, and only with great difficulty was a panic averted among them. Several people, terror-stricken, attempted to jump overboard, Italf a dozen ladies had violent hysterical fits and several more fainted. While finishing the journey several practical mechanics critically examined the broken woodwork of the barge and strongly condemned the timbers as rotton and unsafe. The roof had not been fastened with stays and the entire upper portion of the Haskett was poorly constructed.

STRIKING FOREIGNERS COOLING DOWN.

A SMALL ARMY OF POLES AND BOHEMIANS PARADE THE STREETS OF CLEVELAND.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]
CLEVELAND, July 9.—An army of strikers numbering 1,100 formed on Broadway at 9 o'clock this morning with a Bohemian band at its head and moved toward the city. Upon the advice of the cooler heads the red flag was left behind. A young foreigner with a biond mustache and mounted on an unsteady horse seemed to be commander-in-chief, but the one who gave the most orders and was most obeyed was a young and beardless Pole who carried a heavy rawhide whip and Nearty all the men in the procession were armed with stout bludgeons. At all the street corners in the Four-teenth Ward crowds of Polish and Bohemian women and children, many of the former with babes in their arms, recognize a friend on the sidewalk and shout "A doilar a day!" As the procession turned into Euclid-ave. It was reviewed by General Barnett from his carriage: along Euclid-ave, the band played. When Dodge-st, was reached the procession turned down to Superior and marched back toward the City Hall. Here it encountered two great wagous drawn by four horses and loaded with police. Everybody expected war at once, but the police had neard that another body of strikers was marching upon the Serew Works, and thither they were rapidly strice.

upon the Screw Works, and 'thither they were rapidly driven.

At the City Hall a long halt was made while a committee of strikers had an 'interview with Mayor Gardener. The latter upbraided them for their violence and threatened to get out the Gatling guns and mow them down by hundreds. The Mayor finally agreed to intercede with Mr. Chisholm in their behalf, and by telephone requested that gentleman to appoint a time for a sonference. Mr. Chisholm's answer was in effect that a conference was unnecessary as the mea had received the only answer that would be given. The procession of strikers was reformed and returned to their ward.

When the rumor went abroad that the strikers were on the way to the Union Serew Works hundreds of excited people rapidly gathered in the vicinity. The giris employed in the works were so frightened by these warlike preparations that they were permitted to tile out of the building and return to their homes.

SENATOR MPHERSON AND MR. KELSEY.

TRENTON, July 9 (Special), -Secretary of Senator McPherson in his published reply to the attacks of The True American. Mr. Kelsey regards it as a libel publication of the Watson memorandum. All the articles hostile to Senator McPherson which have appeared in The True American, he said, were written by the editor, who assumes the responsibility. Mr. Kelser would not mind a libel sult, to be tried in New-York. and intimates that if Senator McPherson does not begin one he may do so himself. He will publish a reply to the Senator on Saturday. There is a great rejoicing among the McPherson followers to-night. They say that he has cleared himself of the scandal and will be in a better position than ever to advance their interests in ROCHESTER, July 9 .- Professor Lewis Swift, of the Warner Observatory here, has received information tion that Professor Barnard, of the Vanderbilt University Observatory, at Nashville, Tenn., discovered on the evening of July 7 a pretty but faint comet. Its position 11h., 57', 8". This morning at 2 Professor Swift received another telegram from him giving its daily motion as 35' southwest. With the great telescope of the Warner Observatory Professor Swift observed last evening that the surface of the comet was sprinkled over with minute bright points like a resolved prinkled over with minute bright points like a resolved nebulas. This discovery will clearly entitle the discoverer to the Warner prize of $200 for the first discovery of a new comet in the year 1885.

RAILROAD INTERESTS.

RUMORS OF SETTLEMENT DENIED.

There has been a renewal of reports regardfar as can be ascertained, on high authority, the statements made in The Tribune on Wednesday can be reiterated. No official negotiations are pending between the Central and the Pennsylvania companies looking to any near improvement of the existing situation or aby radical change in the relations of the two companies by transfer of ownership in other properties or territorial divisions of traffic. Whatever efforts are being made to bring about harmony are voluntarily made by persons who may be interested in the properties, but who have no official connection with them, and these have not yet achieved any practical result. The presidents of the Central and the Pennsylvania not infrequently have found it convenient to pay each other mutual respects but the only discussions ladulged in at these few times have covered the whole problem of the railroad war in only a general way. An important officer of the South Pennsylvania syndicate said yesterday that he was wholly unaware of any negotiations affecting that road.

The information as to the true situation obtained by The Tribune here was corroborated yesterday by dispatches from Philadelphia. President George B. Roberts, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, declared that all the rumors regarding a settlement were "news to him." Another prominent officer declared that the rumors in his judgment were circulated to affect speculation. A private dispatch was received here from Vice-President Frank Thomson, of the Pennsylvania, who in reply to a telegram asking if there was any foundation for rumors of negotiations between Pennsylvania and Vanderbilt interests, answered: "No foundation whatever."

lanta capitalists has arrived here to straighten matters out and protect the interests of the "Gate" City. Behind this movement on the part of the Richmond and Danville the rollroad men of the South see a deep motive. Columbus is in the territory of the Georgia Central Railroad, which company recently acquired control of the Greenville and Laurens road in South Carolina, thus entering the heart of the country heretofore exclusively the territory of the Richmond and Danville. The Central Company obtained the lesse of this South Carolina road after a briter fight against the men and money of the Richmond and Danville Syndicate. Now the latter will retailate by striking into one of the most valuable parts of the Central's system. The movements will be watched with interest, as millions of dollars, not alone of Georgia, but of Northern money, is invested in the roads interested. Northern capital has been subscribed to the proposed line from Columbus to Atlants, most of the investors being New-Yorkers and Philadelphians.

OTTAWA, July 9 .- A delegation composed of Mayor McDougal, Senstor Coleman and others interviewed Sir John A. Macdonald and J. D. Pope, acting

ALL DISTANCED BY THE PURITAN.

Boston, Mass., July 9.-The race to-day for America, Gitana, Mohican and Fortuna off Cape Ann attracted a large number of spectators. The weather was g clear and the wind fresh, and everything was favorable for a good contest. The race was twenty miles to windward and return. Before 16 clock the vachts sailed out from their moorings o'clock the yachts sailed out from their moorings at Gloucester and made for a point outside to await the signal for starting. The sloop l'uritan and innumerable craft were outside waiting for the race to begin. Shortly after 11 o'clock the boats to race were got in order and the signal for the start given. The yachts got away in good shape, and stood off to the windward in a south southeast direction. The start was made from a boat moored off Thatcher's Island. The Puritan sailed over the course, leaving the four contesting yachts far in the rear. The Fortuna finished first, with the Gitana, Mohlean and America following in the order named.

ple. Three thousand newsvenders clowed each other in the struggle for an opportunity to purchase copies of The Gazette. At one time the pressure of the crowd was so great that all the lower windows of the building were broken. When the doors of the publication office were there was a rush in which women and boys were knocked down, trodden upon and, in many cases, badly hurt. The sales soon exhausted the edition and the supply of paper giving out the presses were stopped for several hour before the requisite additional supplies could be

In the debute on the Criminal Law Amendment bill last night Samuel Morley, as one of the gentlemen whom the Pull Mail Gazette named to whom it said it was willing to prove the truth of its revelations, with full names, details, etc., said he was willing to join one or two others of those mentioned to investigate the truth of The Gazette's statements. Beside Mr. Morley, The Gazette offers to submit the details to the Archbishop of Canter-bury, Cardinal Manuing, the Earl of Shaftesbury, Earl Dalhousie or Howard Vincent. Mr. Morley has arranged for a meeting of members of the House of Commons on Tuesday to discuss protection of young girls. Thirteen newspaper venders who had been arrested

The paper this afternoon published a number of letters written in commendation by peers, bishops and members of the House of Commons, omitting the names. In addi-tion to these it publishes approving letters from the Rev. Dr. Laurence, a professor in the University of Cambridge, and from a number of other distinguished clergymen of all denominations. It also reproduced articles favorable to its course from The Christian, a religious newspaper, The Western Mercury and The Belfost News, with letters of protest from John Brinton, Liberal Member of Parliament tor Kidderminster, and other persons of prominence. In a late edition it published an editorial thanking the city authorities for attempting to suppress the sales of the paper, thereby breaking the conspiracy of silence maintained by the press concerning the revelations. It adds:

Police seizures of newspapers are common in Vienna, but such high-handed outrages on the freedom of the press should have been impossible in London.

Instead of waging war against street boys, let the authorities take action against the responsible parties in this business. If we have published anything obseene, let them prosecute us. We deny that anything obseene, let them prosecute us. We deny that anything bas been published by us deserving that censure, and we declare the authorities cowards, or worse, if they fail to proceed against us after having charged in open court that The Pall Mall Gazette was an obseene publication.

We reinctantly adopted this mode of publicity in order to arouse men to a just sense of the horrors existing all around them. Now, the more publicity, the better. We are prepared to prove our statements. We can summon witnesses, from the Dean of Canterbury and the Prince of Wales down to Mr. Jeffries. We will put our chief informant and his assistants in the witness box.

Let those who do not wish to shake the foundations of social order think twice before compelling us to confront in coart, brothel-keepers with princes of the blood, and prominent public men with the victims of their lawless vice.

TWICE WRECKED IN A FORTNIGHT. HALIFAX, July 9 (Special).-Captain Coadie John, arrived from Newtoundland to-day. Captale Coadie has been twice shipwrecked within a fortnight

The Emily Raymond was from Greenock for Sydney C. B. On June 7 she encountered a terrific gale which continued until the vessel was a total wreck. At midnight on June 10 the wind blew a hurricane and the sea, mountains high, swept over the vessel. The topmasts, yards and masts came down in topmasts, yards and masts came down in one general wreck, smashing the rails, stanchions and boats. By night there was not a sail left. The water tanks, hatches, and part of the bulwarks were gone. The carge shifted, the cabib, forecaste and galley were full of water, and the ship was completely at the mercy of the sea. Three out of a crew of seven were disabled, and all hands gave up hope. The crew subsisted on hardiack and water, and there were only ten gailons of water left. In this condition they remained for two days, when the Norwegian bark Frithjof, of Lou-berg, succeeded in taking them off the wreck. The Fritajof was bound to quebec in ballast. Fifteen days after rescuing the Raymond's crew she ran ashore at Cape Ballard, Newfoundland, in a dense fog, and became a total wreck, but both crews were saved after great exposure and danger.

TALK OF DISARMING THE CHEYENNES.

PRICE THREE CENTS

TRUOPS TO BE CONCENTRATED—GENERAL MILES TO

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The Secretary of War has directed Lieutenant-General Sheridan to take immediate steps toward the concentration of all troops, that they may be available in case of Indian disturbances in the West. It is reported at the War Department that Indian troubles grow more threatening. In regard to the reported invasion of Southwestern Kansas by the Cheyennes, General Schoticid has sent the following telegram to the War Department:

Latest report indicates that no indians have been in Kansas yet and no citizens killed, but a number, perhaps one hundred, young Cheyennes have left the agency, it is believed to conceal their arms, on account of record untimely threats to diarm them. The present disposition of troops will, I hope, prevent serious trouble if the Indians are let alone.

General Nelson A. Miles, commanding the Depart-be placed in command of the Department of the Columbia.

An important order was issued at the War Department to-day and fent to General Miles. Army officials are reticent as to the contents of the message. Persons not in authority, however, say that the order contained instructions to the commanding officer directing him to disarm the Indians. It was sent by Lieutenant-General Sheridan. The Cheyenne Indians are armed with the best make of rifles, and have considerable quantities of ammunition. For some time they have anticipated an attempt by the army to take their arms from them, and have in some instances indicen them. If the troops undertake to disarm them, it is thought by officials here who have dealt with the Cheyennes, that they will resist until overpowered. There are between 1,200 and 1,500 fighting indians among them. It was add here to-day that General Augur favored the disarming of these Indians but considered the present force insufficient for the purpose.

A WOMAN'S FRIGHTFUL EXPERIENCE.

BOUND AND GAGGED AND TRREATENED WITH

DEATH-A BOLD CRIME.
CHICAGO, July 9.—Thomas Smith, of No. 50 Eldridge Court, head draughtsman in the employ of the Dearborn Foundry, is in receipt of a good salary, and is has been his practice for some time past to trust a large portion of his earnings with his wife. Mrs. Smith is twenty-six years old. When her husband went to work to-day she was left alone in their rooms. A ring at th bell called Mrs. Smith to the front door. Two men dressed as mechanics introduced themselves as plumb the kitchen. She stood by the door as the first one en-tered, and, after waiting a moment, turned to let the second man pass. As she turned he struck her a blow with his fist which caused her to fall on her knees. Before his fist which caused her to fall on her knees. Before she had time to cry out her assailant's fluxers were featened in her neck. Then the other man drew a long rope from a sack and proceeded to bind her feet and hands. A towei was drawn tightly across her mouth and tied at the back of her head. The robbers than tore open the bosom of her dress and got hold of a wallet containing $1,030. Suddenly the door-bell rang. One of the fellows $1,030. Suddenly the door-bell rang. One of the follows coolly answered the summons. Mr. Timothy and wife, friends of the Smiths, had stopped to make a friendly call. While one of the robbers held Mrs. Smith on the floor with his hand pressed over her mouth, the other informed the callers that she was ill and unable to see any visitors. Then he closed and looked the door.

"What shall we do with her!" said he. "Kill her, that's the only thing to do," said the other; "then she'il never squeal."

that's the only thing to do," said the other; "then she'll never squeal.
"I dou't want to kill a woman in cold blood," rejoined the first speaker.
"You needn't do it in cold blood," answered the other, "just set fire to the house and let her burn up."
Mrs. Smith saw the man who spoke last seize a Rerosene can as if to execute his threat. The can proved the empty. He cast it from him with an oath, and said:
"Let's dump her into the bath-tub and turn on the water. She will drown like a rat."
A moment's consultation followed, and the would-be murderers quietly went out of the front door, closing is after them, leaving Mrs. Smith upon the floor bound hand and foot, and almost dead from fright. Half an hour clapsed before she regained strength enough to attempt loosening the bonds about her wrists. This task took another half hour. Dragging herself on her knees, she finally reached the front door. A passer-by was told of what had taken place, and the police were informed.
